

November 1, 2012

To whom it may concern,

RE: Youth TechCamp, November 21-30, 2012

The U.S. Department of State, in collaboration with BrightPath and PasifikaNEXUS, will host a Youth TechCamp at the University of the South Pacific in Suva, Fiji on November 21-22 and November 26-30, 2012. A signature series hosted by the State Department to raise digital literacy, Youth TechCamp Fiji will engage Pacific youth, students, and young professionals.

Youth TechCamp Fiji supports Secretary Clinton's 21st Century Statecraft policy by encouraging young people to learn about and contribute to the digital networks and technologies of today's interconnected world.

Youth TechCamp Fiji will provide six full days of training for up to 300 Pacific youth. Participants will interact with top local and international technology experts specializing in digital content creation, mobile apps, and social activism. Youth TechCamp Fiji will enable these future leaders to learn how they can leverage connection technologies to make a positive impact in their communities and around the world.

We invite you to partner with us in this initiative and help empower youth from around the Pacific by supporting their participation. If you need additional information please contact Salanieta T. Tamanikaiwaimaro at salanieta.tamanikaiwaimaro@gmail.com or myself.

Regards,

Joseph L. Crook
Regional Public Affairs Officer
U.S. Embassy, Fiji, Kiribati, Nauru, Tonga and Tuvalu
Phone: (679) 331-4466 Ext: 8132
Fax: (679) 330-8685